

Guiding Information Package

Welcome to the Hyland Backcountry guiding program for Winter 2022. We look forward to spending time in the mountains with you

Winter goes by faster each year - So register early to avoid disappointment.

Please read through this package carefully and don't hesitate to get in touch if you need more information.

My Guiding Philosophy:

I've been guiding for 20 years, and still appreciate being out in the mountains with people. I have a family with 2 young children, and I have a very strong motivation to come home at the end of each day. I will guide to the conditions, and I will ask you to accept that. I will make sure your objectives and risk tolerance align with mine, and I will attempt to manage the risk accordingly. If they don't, that's fine, I'll try to refer you to another guide.

You and I are counting on each other out there, and I will take the time to ensure you have basic competence in rescue techniques and processes.

So, if we have never skied together before, please do not ask me on our first day in the mountains together to ski something steep and committing. Everyone loves to ski powder – so do I, but it does not magically appear every day. The weather creates a variety of backcountry conditions. Please don't expect to ski deep powder on your day out – we have no control over the conditions.

If this makes sense to you and you can respect my guiding principles, I'll make sure I work hard to give you an enjoyable day in the hills.

Thanks;

Sean
